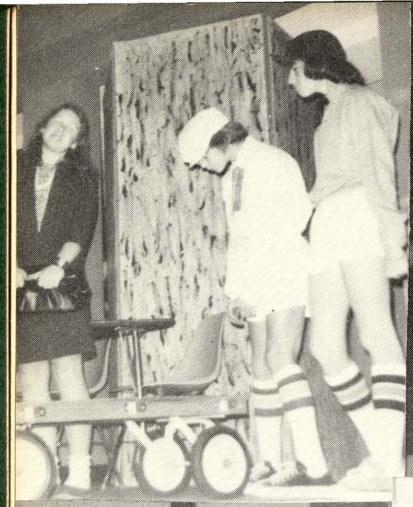
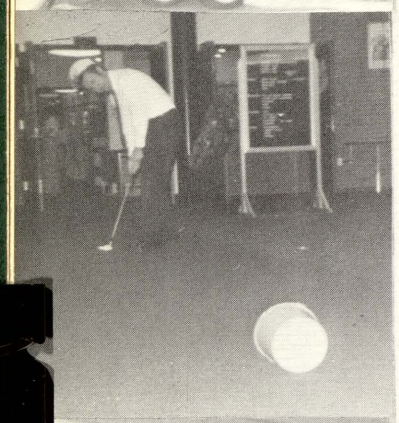
RETROSPECT '75

Vol. 3





FROM THE EDITOR:

The Ottawa yearbook staff presents the 1975 edition of Retrospect.

Confined to working nights after school was quite a challenge. Pulling together (well, not always), we met our deadlines. We hope you enjoy the added color pictures and tints this year. Deciding which pictures to use was no easy task!

A super thanks to Mr. Levi, our yearbook advisor. Between taking Excedrin and making hamburger runs to Mac's for us, he kept us on schedule.

Thanks also to Ms. Razmus for balancing our budget (well, most of the time, anyways); to Mrs. Hoff, Mrs. Mazany, and Mrs. Wehrman for additional help and advice; to Mrs. Culver and Mr. Reer for photographic assistance; to the STP for financial support; and, finally, to all of you, for and whom this book is about. We hope you will agree this is our best yearbook yet.

Eileen Lynch

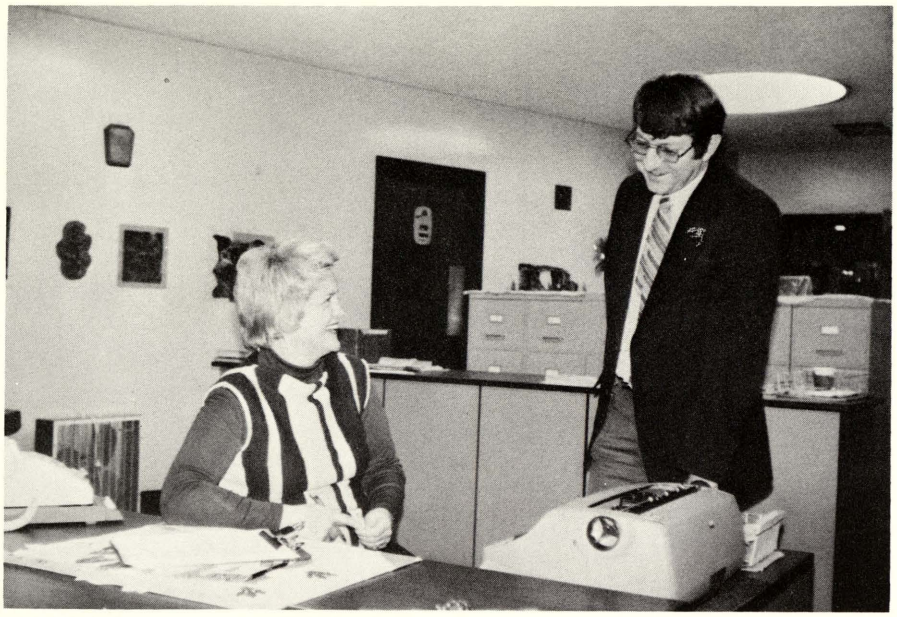
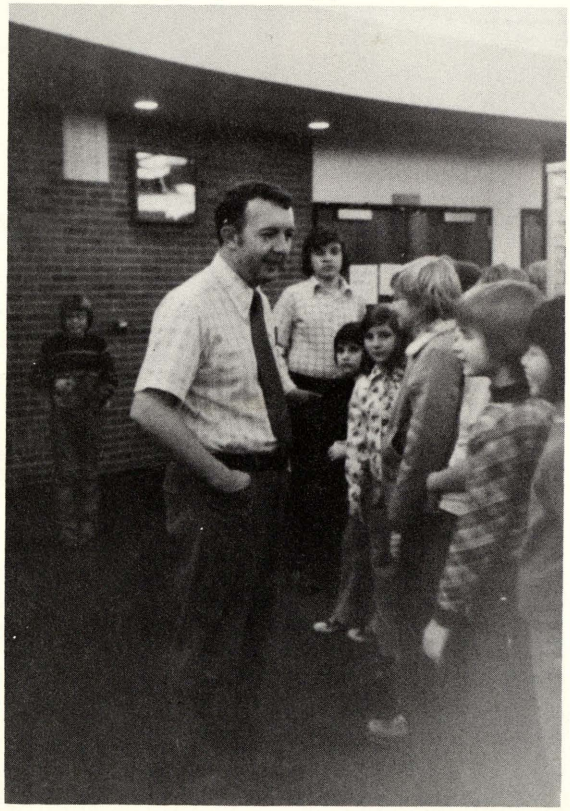
Around the Ottawa Office



Mr. Finn and Mrs. Wickham in the main office.

"What's the new crisis for this week?" Mr. Brown wonders.

"Ottawa lunches are the best in the township. I grew up on them and look at me now!" Mr. Brown tells a group of hungry students.



Mrs. Lilliefors hard at work in the Ottawa attendance office.

FAREWELL

by Connie Hausman

Days have past
and we've far to go;
But how far?
Shall we ever know?

We have each grown
a little inside,
With good times and bad times
We still have our pride.

Oh sure, there have been some painful, bad days;
But you must learn to accept
Life's hard-to-face ways.

Many steps further
in this great life game;
Someday we'll look back,
Seeing how far we came.

Where will you go now?
What will you see?
When will you get there?
What will you be?

Questions, yet no answers,
reel through your mind;
When will they be answered?
Those answers you may never find.

The end? Oh, yes.
Well, that's all up to you.
The life that you choose
Will be made just by you.

So GOOD LUCK, my friend,
as you go on your way.
Find the best in tomorrow;
But find the best in today.

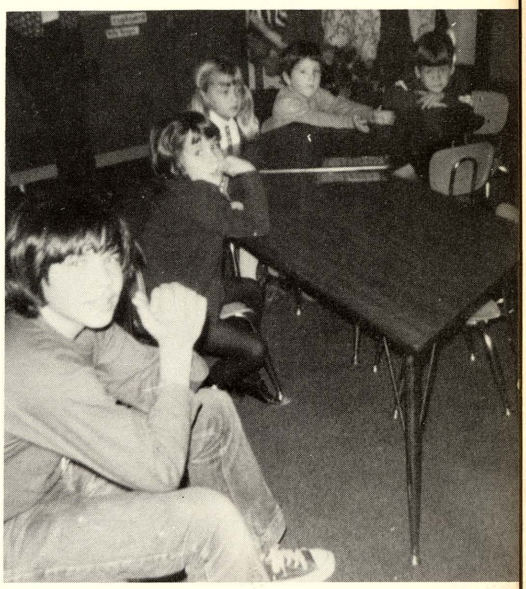
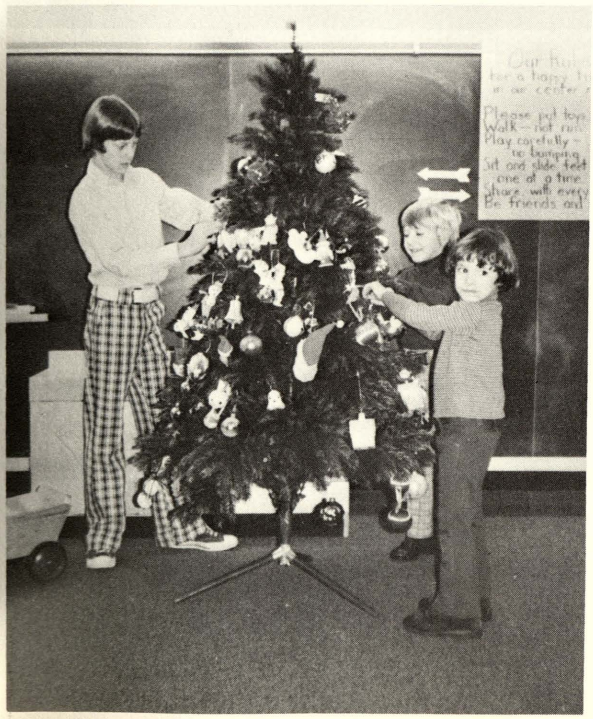
Ottawa Students A-round Sherwood

Marilyn Hoag listens with amusement as an eager student describes his "monster man" to the class for the daily "show-and-tell" period. In the background, Lori Pesta prepares materials for an art project.



Mark Keyser is captured in a candid shot as he takes a break from the rigors of teaching kindergarten. "Am I going to become a teacher someday?" he remarks. "What do you think?"

"HEY!" a Sherwood student asks of aide Rob Smith, "Where did this guy learn how to decorate a Christmas tree?"



". . . And then the big, bad wolf . . . named Mr. Brown . . . fell down the chimney into the blazing pot and the three little pigs lived happily ever after." It is all in a day's work for Jane Grimaldi, as a teacher aide at Sherwood.
